London Reports Indications of Plans for Second Front

Caucasus Situation Is Described As Even More Critical

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Rallying Soviet armies, fighting under the slogan, "Die, but don't retreat," threw back the Germans in some sectors of the Don river bend 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad today, but in the Caucasus the situation grew ever more critical.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters declared that German, Rumanian and Slovak troops driving toward the Caucasus oil fields had already thrust spearheads 112 miles below the Don, and the Russians acknowledged German advances in this theater.

The Nazi command said that fighting was in progress for the town of Salsk, a junction on the last major rail line from the Caucasus to Stalingrad 100 miles southeast of Rostov, and that Axis troops had swept across the Don on a 150-mile front.

German speed troops and advanced infantry divisions were pictured by the Nazi command as closely pursuing the Russians and preventing further retreat at several points by outstripping the disorganized fugitives."

Strong Soviet attacks were acknowledged in the north, around Rzhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, on the Volkhov front and outside Leningrad.

In the battle of the Don river bend, above Stalingrad, the Red armies reported they had turned a novel "flying wedge" attack of massed German infantry, walled by tanks, into a death trap for the Nazis.

Soviet armored trains rolled into the shell-torn battle area, bringing up fresh reinforcements to bolster Red army veterans who appeared to be slowly turning the tide against the Germans.

Front-line reports said the new troops were rushed immediately into the flaming battle zone.

Dispatches to Red Star said Russian troops also wiped out three battalions of German infantry disguised in Soviet army uniforms.

"Southwest of Kletskaya, our troops repelled enemy attacks and in some sectors pressed the enemy back," a bulletin from Red army headquarters said.

Kletskaya, 80 miles above Stalingrad, has been the scene of a giant see-saw battle for the past eight days.

While the situation along the Don river bend visibly improved,

Axis Bombers Kill Number In Alexandria

Cairo, Egypt, July 31—(AP)—Axis bombers raided Alexandria last night, killing four persons and injuring 13 and causing slight damage to property, the Egyptian interior ministry announced today.

Air raid alarms also sounded in the Cairo area and other points in Egypt, the ministry said, but it made no mention of bombs falling in Cairo, which was the target of a light raid Wednesday night.

Light British patrols harassed the Axis forces on all sectors of the El Alamein front by night, General Sir Claude Auchinlecks' headquarters announced, but there was no indication of large scale operations anywhere in the fighting zone.

RAF Sweeps Across Channel In Direction of Boulogne After Night of Home Bombings

LONDON HAS AN ALERT

London, July 31—(AP)—British fighters swept across the channel in the direction of Boulogne this morning in a resumption of daylight raids on the occupied French coast after a night of scattered German bombing attacks upon Britain.

Nazi planes also were active over the channel during the forenoon and heavy anti-aircraft fire was audible for several minutes on the outskirts of London, which had two quick alarms during the night—the fifth and sixth of the week.

The gunfire sent shoppers in the capital scurrying for cover, but ground watchers spotted no enemy planes over the city.

Eight towns in the Midlands were hit with high explosives and incendiaries by the German night raiders who followed the usual practice of liighting up the target

NINE COUNTIES WILL HAVE DAYLIGHT DRILL

Pittsburgh, July 31—(AP)—A daylight air-raid drill, in addition to a regular blackout, will be held by nine counties of western Pennsylvania some time during August, the Pittsburgh Metropolitan Defense Council announced today.

The daylight drill, plans for which are incomplete, will be held in these counties: Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Greene, Lawrence, Washington and Westmoreland. All traffic will stop and pedestrians will seek shelter.

Dr. A. C. Marts, executive director of the State Council of Defense, presided at the meeting when plans for the daylight drill were announced. The black-out will be state-wide.

Associated Press Bulletins

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts), July 31—(AP)—Imperial headquarters reported today that Japanese naval air units had inflicted considerable damage on the air base and other military facilities at Townsville on the northeast coast of Australia in a series of raids July 26, 27 and 28.

Teheran, Iran, July 31—(AP)—Prime Minister Ali Soheily announced the resignation of his government today after several of his cabinet ministers quit.

Chungking, July 31—(AP)—The Japanese in two separate attempts to raid Hengyang airdrome yesterday lost four bombers and three new type fighters under the guns of the U. S. air force in China, Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters reported today.

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, told a senate committee today that Donald Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, had promised "full support" of his program to build giant troop and cargo-carrying planes in his shipyards.

Harrisburg, July 31—(AP)—The federal government has cancelled extension to 26 additional counties in Pennsylvania of its food stamp plan, under which participating relief families get 50 per cent more food for their dollar, Howard L. Russell, secretary of public assistance, announced today.

U. S. FLIERS SHOOT DOWN NINE RAIDERS

Biggest Burst of Aerial Warfare Since Coral Sea Battle Takes Place Over Darwin

TRANSPORT IS FIRED

BY VERN HAUGLAND

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, July 31—(AP)—In the biggest burst of aerial warfare since the Coral Sea battle nearly three months ago, American fliers in Curtiss Kittyhawks yesterday shot down nine Japanese raiders over Darwin and downed one or possibly two Japanese over New Guinea, while heavy Allied bombers 100 miles north of New Guinea set raging fire to a Japanese transport and shot up its destroyer escort.

One American plane was shot down at Darwin but the pilot parachuted to safety.

Allied fighters tore into the attacking force of 27 heavy bombers and 22 escorting zero fighters over Port Darwin, knocking down seven of the fighters and two bombers at a cost of only one defending plane. The Japanese formations were completely broken up in this Allied performance, described by a headquarters communique as a piece of "brilliant interception."

The big raid upon the northern port came in the afternoon after a light, ineffective morning attack.

In other thrusts at the commonwealth, nine high-flying Japanese bombers made the first attack of the war on Port Hedland, small freight port southwest of Broome, in western Australia, causing slight damage and one casualty, and made a futile, single-plane night attack on Horn Island, in the Torres Strait.

Keeping up their own offensive operations, Allied heavy bombers pounced on the destroyer-escorted Japanese transport 100 miles off Gana Mission, Papua, and scored five direct hits, leaving the ves-

Pelley Trial Believed To Be Nearing Close

Indianapolis, July 31—(AP)—The government was expected to close its case today against William Dudley Pelley, goateed former leader of the Silver Shirts of America, charged with criminal sedition.

Oscar R. Ewing, assistant to the U. S. attorney general and chief of the prosecution staff, said there were only a few more witnesses and that they would used "to prove the seditious intent of the defendants."

Being tried with Pelley on 12 counts under the 1917 sedition act, were Miss Agnes M. Henderson and Lawrence A. Brown, both associated with him in the Fellow Ship Press, Inc., at Noblesville, Ind.

Yesterday the government called a procession of alleged former

Gotham Editor Enters Army

New York, July 31—(AP)—Ralph Ingersoll, editor of the newspaper PM, was inducted into the army today as a volunteer. He will report at Camp Upton on Long Island tomorrow.

The 41-year-old editor enlisted after his local draft board refused to change his 1-A classification following an appeal by Marshall Field, owner of PM, in Ingersoll's behalf.

Ingersoll said Field would try to get the selective service appeals board to rule on his appeal as a "test case." Field based his appeal on the assertion that Ingersoll was indispensable to PM.

Although the editor made no appeal himself he accused the local draft board of prejudice regarding his case in a letter published in PM shortly before the local board continued him in 1-A.

Christmas Cards to Have Patriotic Trend

New York, July 31—(AP)—It's a little early, but we thought you'd like to know what kind of Christmas cards you'll get this year.

The familiar red, white and green will give way to the patriotic red, white and blue, the greeting card industry announced today.

Furthermore, fat old Santa Claus will be replaced by skinny Uncle Sam's bewhiskered countenance, and some of the cards, even though stands for "peace on earth and good will toward men," may contain the warlike slogans:

"Trap the Jap."
"Paste the paperhanger."
"Muzzle Mussolini."

Japs Believed Aiming Drive Into Siberia

London Report States Nearly 400,000 Troops Massed In Manchukuo

FAR PACIFIC ACTIVITIES

By the Associated Press

British military quarters declared today that Japan had massed nearly 400,000 troops in Manchukuo opposite the 1,000-mile Soviet frontier and said "there is little doubt they are planning to attack.

These quarters predicted that the Japanese would make at least three drives in an attempt to isolate the Siberian port of Vladivostok, which lies only 700 miles across the sea of Japan from Tokyo.

"August and September are the best months for campaigning in that area," the source said, "and the Japanese inactivity in all other spheres except the north Pacific indicates Siberia is their objective for the last half of 1942."

Aside from aerial operations and a minor Japanese land thrust toward the Allied outpost of Port Moresby, in New Guinea, the whole far Pacific theatre has been ominously quiescent for weeks.

In China, Lieut.-General W. Stilwell's headquarters reported that the Japanese lost four bombers and three new Zero-type fighters under the guns of U. S. air force fighters when the enemy twice attempted to raid Hengyang airdrome yesterday.

GUARD OFFICER PROMOTED

Baltimore, July 31—(AP)—The promotion of Lieut. Colonel Raymond A. Brown, Third Service Command ordnance officer, to the rank of colonel was announced today by Major General Milton A. Reckord, commander of the service command. Reckord said that Brown is the only National Guard officer on duty as a service command ordnance officer with the rank of colonel.

HEARING IS RESUMED BY COMMISSION

President's War-time Power Is Upheld in Momentous Decision Handed Down In Washington Today

VERDICT COMING SOON

BY WILLIAM R. SPEAR

Washington, July 31—(AP)—The supreme court unanimously upheld President Roosevelt's wartime power today to close the civil courts to seven alleged Nazi saboteurs and to appoint a military commission to determine their fate.

The charges preferred against the men—that they slipped into America with explosives to blast war production plants—allege an offense which, the court said, "the president is authorized to order tried before a military commission."

This commission, which began its secret sessions July 8, is now finishing the case and, Attorney General Biddle, elated over the supreme court's ruling, said the arguments before the commission would be concluded speedily and that the commission might be able to report a verdict to the president early next week.

Colonel Kenneth C. Royall, one of the army officers assigned to the defense, expressed doubt that the proceedings would conclude so quickly, however, apparently indicating an intention to plead at length for the prisoners' lives.

In handing down its decision at the end of an extraordinary three-day session, the court observed that it "has fully considered the questions raised."

Chief Justice Stone announced that the court denied the prisoners' motion to file writs of habeas corpus.

Only seven of the eight accused saboteurs sought the writ.

The court's announcement explained:

"The court has fully considered

Starved Man In Attic Clears Up Mystery of Haunted House

Denver, July 31—(AP)—The mystery of a house which children believed was haunted has been solved, police say, by the arrest of an emaciated, half-starved man who admitted he lived in a tiny attic cubicle of the vacated dwelling for nine months after beating the owner to death.

Mathew Cornish, 59, unkept and haggard, was captured yesterday in the home of Philip Peters, 73-year old retired railroad auditor who was found there, slain, last October 17.

Detective Capt. James E. Childers said Cornish, former advertising man from Tonawanda, N. Y., confessed he bludgeoned Peters with a gun and poker after Peters caught him looting his icebox.

Police, investigating complaints of eerie sounds and strange ghost lights in the Peters home, found Cornish in a cubbyhole four feet wide, seven feet long, with roof so low a man could not sit upright. He weighed 75 pounds.

Mrs. Peters, in a hospital when her husband was killed, returned to her home and lived there for several months but she never detected the presence of the attic dweller. She now lives with a son in Grand Junction, Colo.

Ship Captain Sub Prisoner

By the Associated Press

The first reported instance of the seizure by a German submarine of an American ship's captain as a prisoner of war was disclosed by the navy yesterday in announcing the sinking of another U. S. merchantman in the western Atlantic.

With the loss also of the Brazilian freighter Tamandare, announced by the Brazilian government yesterday, the Associated Press unofficial tally of submarine sinkings of United and neutral nations' craft in the area rose to 404.

"You are a prisoner of war. I want you to come aboard. I am very sorry," survivors of the American vessel quoted an English-speaking u-boat commander as having said to the American as his ship was foundering in the south Atlantic on July 9.

"We'll treat him well. He'll be aboard only about 11 days," the

Five Plants In State Slowed Down By Labor Controversies

Situation Resulting From Strikes is Described as "Very Discouraging"

BERWICK TROUBLE ENDS

By the Associated Press

An outbreak of labor trouble in five Pennsylvania plants engaged in war work was characterized by the army ordnance department today as "very discouraging," particularly at this time "when production is so vital to winning the war."

A spokesman for the department in Philadelphia referred to a two-day strike which ended today at the American Car and Foundry Company's tank plant at Berwick, and labor disputes at the York Oil Burner Company at York, the Phoenix Manufacturing Company at Catawissa and the U. S. Gauge Company, Sellersville.

The strike at Berwick ended when 1,000 maintenance workers

Amazing Story of Hoodwinking Unfolded After Arrest of Alleged Major

SIDEARM IS SUSPICIOUS

Newark, N. J., July 31—(AP)—The alertness of a state police corporal was credited today for the arrest of Warner J. MacFarlane, accused of impersonating an U. S. army major so successfully that he rode around in a chauffeur-driven army automobile and supervised construction of an army canteen.

The 46-year-old defendant was picked up at Plainfield after Col. Walter Heckmann became suspicious of his credentials and notified the FBI. E. E. Conroy, assistant FBI director, said MacFarlane carried a .25 caliber Mauser pistol in his automobile. Heckmann recognized that the pistol was not a sidearm issue of the army.

"I deny this charge and I have records to prove it," the five foot, four defendant declared yesterday as Federal Judge William J. Barker held him in $5,000 bail on charges of impersonating an FBI agent and a U. S. army major.

Conroy outlined an amazing story of hoodwinking, saying that

Canned Music Ban Stays On

New York, July 31—(AP)—The manufacture of "canned music" by 138,000 union players ceases at midnight tonight by order of President James O. Petrillo of the AFL-American Federation of Musicians.

On the eve of his ban on making recordings for radio and other public use—which he says comprises 95 per cent of the music heard in the United States and Canada—Petrillo broke a long silence last night to defend his action.

"Our order is not changed," he told newsmen in making public a letter to Chairman James Lawrence Fly of the Federal Communications Commission, who has said he would look into the recording matter and also into Petrillo's cancellation of broadcasts by the

DIVERSIONARY ACTION PLEA OF RUSSIANS

Moscow Believed to Have Made It Plain Time Is Ripe for Invasion of Western Europe

LEADERS IN PARLEY

BY ROBERT BUNNELLE

London, July 31—(AP)—The quickened pace of British and American offensive preparations in this theater and the constant conferences of Allied war leaders were viewed in London as indications that the Russians have made it plain they think the time is ripe for a diversionary action against the Germans in western Europe.

Discussion of such action was lent urgency by reports from continental sources of new German attempts to capitalize on Russia's situation and drive a wedge between the Allies by separate peace feelers.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky is said to have given a frank appraisal of Russia's military condition in a closed all-party session of members of parliament yesterday.

On the same day, Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet ambassador to Washington, visited the White House.

While some persons believed London and Washington had been given to understand that Russia would be content with 1,000-plane raids on Germany and big-scale command forays, provided war equipment can be delivered to the Red army on the required scale, a guarded dispatch from Moscow today suggested strongly that the Russians would not be satisfied with merely an aerial "second front."

Some observers were of the opinion that a land diversion in the west and solution of the Murmansk supply route troubles might be identical—establishment of bases in Scandinavia to provide air protection along the bomb-blasted convoy course.

NINE ARRESTED IN ALIQUIPPA DISPUTE

Aliquippa, July 31—(AP)—Nine workmen at the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation mills here, arrested yesterday on charges of aggravated assault and battery after forcing their way through a picket line returned to their jobs last night after Sheriff Charles J. O. Laughlin ordered mass picketing prohibited.

A. G. Helbing, counsel for the workmen, said bond was furnished for the nine men for a hearing tonight before Justice of Peace Robert J. McLanahan.

Berlin Propaganda Agencies Boastful

New York, July 31—(AP)—German news services and propaganda agencies, continuing Berlin's recent campaign, boasted today of the strength of defenses with which Germany is prepared to resist any attempt of the United Nations to create a second front in western Europe.

The Transocean Agency circulated articles attributed to the German-controlled Paris press in which new fortifications along the French coast and all the way up to northern Norway were described as "stronged than the Maginot line."

The comparison with the Maginot Line was made by Paul Russel, young French engineer who for a year has been helping the Germans construct fortifications in northern France.

The German official news agency, DNB, said the German airforce has prepared with utmost thoroughness to meet attack from the west.

Logan Sends a Letter To Ross

Harrisburg, July 31—(AP)—Dismissal of 126 state employes was sought today by Dr. Edward B. Logan, secretary of revenue, in a dispute with Auditor General F. Clair Ross over the cost of collecting mercantile and inheritance taxes.

Settlement of the levies has been held up by Logan who charged unnecessary workers had been hired by Ross and that certain payroll and expense deductions were "unreasonable and thoroughly unjustified."

In a personal letter, Logan told Ross:

Wellesley President Is Slated To Head Women's Naval Unit

BY RUTH COWAN

Washington, July 31—(AP)—It's Lieut.-Cmdr. Mildred H. McAfee, U. S. N. R., if you please.

Within the next few days Secretary of the Navy Knox is going to let out the secret that he, the admirals and Commander-in-Chief Roosevelt have agreed on Miss McAfee, Wellesley College's 42-year-old president, as head of Uncle Sam's sailorettes.

President Roosevelt yesterday signed into law a bill creating a feminine naval reserve, designated as women appointed for volunteer emergency service—and promptly dubbed the "WAVES"—to release men for active sea duty.

So now Uncle Sam's military-minded nieces have a choice of volunteering to be a "WAVE" or a "WAAC," the feminine equivalent in the army.

The new naval service will include 1,000 commissioned officers and about 10,000 enlisted members. The corps will be shorebound sailors and the law prohibits their being sent outside the country.

And they lived happily ever after!.. with a

Infant Dies From Effects Of Liniment

A quantity of rubbing liniment, consumed by the child while the mother was engaged in household duties, caused the death in the Warren General Hospital last evening at 10:25, of Billy, 18-months-old twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gibson, who reside on Davy Hill, in Deerfield township, near Pittsfield.

The parents informed Coroner Ed Lowrey that the infant, along with other children in the family, was alone in the house when it secured the liniment from a medicine cabinet. As soon as the mother discovered the accident, which occurred about 7:30 o'clock, she applied home remedies, and later the parents started for the office of a physician in Youngsville, who advised that it be rushed to the hospital. Admitted at 10:10 it passed away fifteen minutes later. A certificate of accidental poisoning was issued.

Besides the parents, the child is survived by a twin sister, Barbara Ann, another set of twins, Robert Burton and Betty Jane, and another brother, James Earl. Removal was made to the Hull Funeral Home in Youngsville.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Davy Hill church. Interment will be in the Davy Hill cemetery.

Select Heads Of Placement Farm Service

The designation of Leslie R. Donaldson, of Spring Creek and Leslie Anderson, of Sugar Grove, as volunteer farm placement representatives of the Unted States Employment Service was announced today by David W. Levine, manager of the Warren office of the U. S. Employment Service. Mr. Donaldson and Mr. Anderson will act as representatives of the Federal agency in accepting orders for workers from farmers and accepting registrations for jobs from farm workers at place of business in their respective localities, and will assist the employment service in referring workers to job openings.

"The Volunteer Farm Placement Representative Plan is being initiated in these areas in order to bring the facilities of the U. S. Employment service closer to agricultural workers and emplayers," Manager Levine explained. "Mr. Donaldson and Mr. Anderson will receive no pay for their service, and will neither charge nor accept any fee from either worker or employer, but will contribute their assistance as public-spirited members of the community and in the interests of the Food for Freedom Program."

With food growers throughout Pennsylvania and throughout the Natien being called upon to produce crops far in excess of any ever grown before to meet the requirements of America's fighting forces as well as civilian population, the problem of farm labor supply is becoming increasingly acute, Mr. Levine pointed out. The U. S. Employment Service, with a specific Farm Placement Representative in each of the 80 local offices throughout Pennsylvania, is concentrating upon this problem, and the designation of Volunteer Farm Placement Representatives will provide farm workers and farm employers in outlying communities with direct access to services of this agency.

Manager Levine urged farmers in the Sugar Grove and Spring Creek area to place their orders for workers with Mr. Donaldson or Mr. Anderson as early as possible. He pointed out that by providing the Employment Service with accurate and complete information on their labor needs in advance, farmers will greatly increase their prospect of obtaining an adequate and qualified supply of workers.

Applicants for farm work will also be able to register at the places of business of Mr. Donaldson and Mr. Anderson, the Volunteer Farm Representatives, and all persons, whether experienced or inexperienced, who are interested in obtaining a farm job should register with them promptly, Mr. Levine said.

Cooperative Playing Part In War Work

Details of how the Warren Electric Cooperative, Inc., REA system serving rural sections of this area, is geared to the war effort were reported to a conference of REA superintendents from eight Atlantic seaboard states at the national headquarters of that agency in St. Louis, Mo., this week by H. F. Curry, of Pittsfield, superintendent of the cooperative, who is attending the meeting.

The policy of the Warren Electric Cooperative, Inc., according to Mr. Curry, is in line with that of the national organization as expressed by REA Administrator Harry Slattery when he said in addressing the opening session of the meeting: "Every rod of the 360,000 miles of REA line must serve the war. When you managers and superintendents keep those lines working, you are on the war front—you are doing your part."

Mr. Slattery pointed out that nearly a million farmers, served with REA power are able to do a better job supplying much needed food for ourselves and our allies because they have electricity. In addition to serving the farmers themselves, REA lines are also serving hundreds of food processnig plants, military establishments, and decentralizatized war industries. Rural power lines built in peacetime were ready when the call came, and often advanced the work of war plants by weeks and months.

"I don't want you to forget for one moment," said Mr. Slattery, "that the war is our number one job today and every day, until the final victory is won. If we don't win a complete victory, we might as well forget about any post-war building of electric lines, or building anything else, except more weapons for another war.

"We've pledged ourselves, and all our resources to redeem the enslaved people, and to prove that we remember those heroes who have laid down their lives for justice and liberty and democracy through the ages."

Post Office Receipts In Warren Gain

Receipts at the Warren post office for the month of June ran $41,898, a gain over 1941, but a reduction from two years ago, according to the monthly survey of the Pennsylvania State College. From May to June postal receipts here showed a less-than-seasonal contraction of six percent. Receipts for the first half of 1942 were down five percent from those of a year ago.

Industrial power sales broke all June records and expanded 27 percent over that of a year ago. From May to June they showed a less than seasonal contraction of 0.2 percent. Sales for the year to date were 32 percent above those of 1941 in the same months.

Building operations were $40,000, a gain of 32 percent over those of the previous June. May permits totaled only $3,700. Permits for the half year were down 12 percent from those of 1941.

New car and truck sales in Warren county were 11, a reduction of 94 percent from those of last June. Nine vehicles were rationed in May. Sales for the year to date were down 90 percent from those of last year.

Telephones in service on July 1 were 5,430, a net gain of 322 stations in the past 12 months.

Factory employment in the Kane-Oil City area of five counties was at the best June level in any recent year and expanded 10 percent over that of the previous year. From May to June it showed no change when a gain would be seasonal. The index of employment fell to 121 percent of the 1935-1939 average, a loss of one point from May after adjustment. Employment for the first six months was 14 percent better than it was in 1941.

Factory payrolls in this five-county area were at a new high for any month in recent years and rose to 30 percent over the previous June. From May to June they showed no change when a slight increase would be seasonal. The index of payrolls fell to 194 percent of the 1935-1939 average, a loss of one point from May after adjustment.

Upton Going To New York For Hearing

Federal Judge R. M. Gibson, of Pittsburgh, yesterday signed an order directing that J. Duane Upton, of Erie, a former Garland resident, be removed to New York to answer federal charges of sending a threatening letter to injure the reputation of the husband and sister of Edna St. Vincent Millay, the poet.

Upton, a dealer in autographed items, was taken to Pittsburgh from Erie and will be taken to New York on a complaint that he used the mails in a scheme to extort autographed photographs and autographs of celebrities, according to the Associated Press.

The complaint charged that Upton wrote to Eugen Boissevain, the poet's husband, in Austerlitz, N. Y., seeking signed longhand copies of two Edna Millay poems. The complaint said that if they were not forthcoming, Upton threatened to make public a false letter from Kathleen Millay, of New City, N. Y., the poet's sister, stating she was penniless and critically ill.

Districts In County Given State Funds

Twenty-nine fourth class school districts in Warren county are among 540 in 21 counties of Pennsylvania which will share payments totalling $2,123,711 approved this week by Auditor General F. Clair Ross covering regular payments of state aid in the support of public schools during the 1941-42 term, it was reported today.

Payments, made semi-annually in February and August, represent commonwealth reimbursement to districts for expenitures of the previous year.

Districts in Warren county receiving payments are as follows:

OIL PIONEER DIES

Pittsburgh, July 31—(AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Samuel D. Robison, 92-year old retired oil operator and oldest member of the Allegheny County Planning Commission.

Robison, one of the pioneers of the oil industry in western Pennsylvania, also operated in the oil fields of West Virginia and Kentucky. At one time he had 500 producing wells. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Ida R. Chester of suburban Bellevue and Mrs. Harry M. Wirsing of New Castle.

St. Valentine's Day was the day on which birds began their spring mating, according to an ancient belief.

We have made our home beautiful and comfortable, not for the few, but for all who may be in need. We do not charge for the use of our home.

MEAT SHORTAGE

The Office of Price Administration is investigating a shortage of meat in numerous cities throughout the country. We suspect the OPA knew the reason for the shortage even before there was a shortage. Certainly there were responsible officials in Washington who knew, and who were trying to get their warnings across.

The meat shortage illustrates the sort of trouble that is inevitable when an administrator is given responsibility for holding prices down, but is deprived of control over elements which govern prices.

The wholesale and retail prices of meats were frozen. The price of livestock went up from a cent and a half to two cents a pound. By the time that basic rise had reached the retailer, it meant a cut of from three to four cents a pound in his markup for overhead and profit.

Government experts say that packers were losing from $10 to $15 on every head of cattle they slaughtered, processed and sold, and from $2 to $2.50 on every hog.

The same amount of loss, these experts estimate, was being split between wholesalers and retailers, with the latter taking a little the worse beating.

The smaller packers began going out of business. The big ones, with a sickly grin, allowed that they could stay in business as a patriotic duty, drawing on their reserves.

The big supermarkets were losing money. The "Papa and Mama stores" got by, in part because their prices weren't under such close observation, and in part because their businesses were more flexible. The in-between stores, backbone of the trade, were being squeezed.

What happened?

The stores began to hold back, particularly on beef and pork, since the more they sold the more money they lost. Raisers waited for higher prices, and lost their market.

Now, with meat almost unbuyably high, there also is a shortage. But next fall there will be a glut on the market.

The Department of Agriculture says there will be 28 million head of meat cattle to be sold before the year is over, a seventh more than last year, and 79 million hogs. The packing industry says there will be 92 million hogs to sell.

When this huge load is ready for market, it will find about a quarter of the small packers out of business. The industry, say experts, will not be able to handle this heavy load.

What are the options? One is to puncture the price ceiling by a cent or a cent and a half a pound. Another is to fix the price of livestock. A third is to continue as we are with the raisers deprived of a market, wholesalers and retailers losing money, packers forced out of business, and meat scarce for consumers.

MESSAGES FROM AUSTRALIA

The radio series, "Messages from Australia," produced by cooperation of the Australian Broadcasting Commission and the Mutual Broadcasting System, has been made available to the families of soldiers who have spoken, by the help of the American Red Cross. The programs, originating in Australia, are short-wave beamed to America. Mutual transcribes the messages in New York and San Francisco and re-broadcasts them here. A transcription is sent to Red Cross National Headquarters in Washington; and the Red Cross re-records the messages into individual phonograph records and, through the local chapters, forwards them to the families addressed.

Such a record of the message from Sergeant Clare Wilcox, of Youngsville, was recently presented to his mother, Mrs. Flossie Wilcox, Poplar street, Youngsville, by the Warren County Chapter of the Red Cross. Through its Home Service Committee, each local Red Cross chapter endeavors to serve, whenever its services can be helpfully employed, as intermediary between men in the armed forces and their families at home.

Sgt. Wilcox was wounded on May 18th; but is now making a satisfactory recovery. He has also cabled his mother assuring her about his condition.

Lot of folks who put off having cars inspected will be forced to help conserve rubber and gas beginning tomorrow.

Scarecrows?

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Army has finally decided to unleash the dogs of war.

In this instance, we are once more several months or years behind the Nazis, who reportedly now are using more than 100,000 dogs for supplementary sentry service and other duties connected with prosecution of the war.

Now comes the quartermaster corps to give full recognition to Dogs for Defense, Inc., an organization of owners, breeders, trainers and handlers, backed by some of the biggest kennel associations in the country.

THE idea is to supply the Army and Navy with thousands of dogs (about 2,000 have been supplied to date) trained to contribute a sensitive nose, an extra pair of eyes and ears, and a canine sixth sense on sentry duty.

If Rover is a pure-bred dog (and he can be a she) between one and five years old, is sound of wind and limb, he's eligible for military duty. There are, of course, a lot of additional IFs.

He (or she) must be of watch-dog disposition. That is, the Army doesn't want any stranger-sniffers—they have to be barkers or, at least, growlers. He mustn't be a one-man dog either, because the canine sentries might have a new master every time he's on duty. He must be able to work as well at night as in the daytime.

And what is of vital importance, he must be able to work as well under gunfire as any of the best field trial blue ribbon winners.

HAVING answered all those specifications, the dog must also answer to the following commands (preceded by his name):

"Heel"—standing steady or following at the handler's left heel.

"Stay"—which means "as is" and immediately.

"Out"—which means rout 'em out, hound, in whatever direction the handler designates.

"Come"—or get for papa, Bruno, and don't chase any rabbits on the way.

If the family purp fulfills all these requirements and is that far along in his training, he's ready for military service and the specified agents of Dogs for Defense (they are in the process of being appointed in practically every city and town in the country—ask your veterinary or local kennel club) will put him through the paces.

If he passes their tests, he's ready for induction.

This drive for dogs to use in modern mechanized warfare has its funny side, too. It is reminiscent of the story that Rommel, the Nazi genius of desert warfare, learned every basic principle of strategy he knows from studying the campaigns and attack strategy of "Stonewall" Jackson.

When the founding fathers and the pioneers were setting off their blunderbusses against the Indians, the worst menace they had to confront was the warning yowls of the dogs in the Indian camps and villages.

Weapons change, but not the old principles. A bark in time still may save a battle.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It's like this. . .

You're an amateur photographer, and you take your camera out for an ordinary Sunday stroll, and before you know it you're in trouble.

The war has done this. It has clamped down on more than 800,000 amateur photographers in Greater New York.

You can't photograph your best girl leaning over a bridge. . . You can't pose your favorite pooch on certain water mains and snap his picture.

AS yet, there's no ban on carrying and using cameras, but it is strictly up to the individual to find out whether he is trespassing on forbidden ground or shooting forbidden subjects. Ignorance is no excuse. You have to find out for yourself in every locality what you can shoot and what you can't. Provisions, in the metropolitan area at least, have been made for this information to be forthcoming.

A good idea is to carry plenty of identification with you in the event you are out to get some killer-subjects for the family album. Your driver's license is okay.

One sure way to get into trouble is to go about with a concealed camera. Carry it openly. If you're in doubt about any subject, ask a cop.

One thing is sure . . . you can't photograph troop movements. . . If you see a column of men swinging along the road, don't take it. . . . Don't shoot a tank, or a column of jeeps. . . . If you fly in a commercial plane, leave your camera at home or keep it locked up. . . . Taking pictures from the air is expressly forbidden. Ditto along sea-coast areas or other forbidden sectors. . . . Don't photograph ships. . . . Don't photograph industrial plants. . . . Don't photograph anti-aircraft emplacements, or searchlights. . . . If you do, you'll have a hard time explaining it. . . . As they say, ignorance is no excuse. . . and the FBI can be very, very tough.

THE government wants it understood that there is no ban on amateur photography. There is no effort being made to discourage photographers. But it asks you to remember that the purpose of all wartime regulations is to withhold information of value to the enemy. That's why industrial plants are forbidden. . . . Those plants may be making bomb sights. . . . A picture might pave the way for sabotage. That's why certain bridges and rail terminals are forbidden. A seemingly harmless film, in the wrong hands, might result in tangled communications and a great loss in life.

Outside of that there's nothing to worry about. Honey, take that chewing gum out of your mouth and lean against this marble faun for a moment. I want to take your picture.

Mary Jamieson and David Beaty, 3rd, Select Aug. 8 As Wedding Day; At Trinity Church

Miss Mary Jamieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jamieson, Conewango avenue extension, and David W. Beaty 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Beaty, Conewango avenue, have chosen August 8 as their wedding date.

The ceremony will take place at four o'clock in the Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, Rev. E. P. Wroth officiating.

Miss Sally Horan, of New York City, is arriving tomorrow; Miss Jessie MacFayden, of Scranton, on Tuesday; Mrs. Robert Ley on Sunday and Mrs. David Knapp on Saturday. Mrs. Ley, the former Elizabeth Jamieson, and Mrs. Knapp, who was Emily Jamieson, sisters of the bride-to-be, are members of the wedding party. Miss Horan and Miss MacFayden, roommates of Miss Jamieson at St. Margaret's School, will also be in the wedding party. Mr. Beaty is expected Monday evening from Miami, Fla.

The Misses Louise Steber, Marion Logan, Rosanne Calderwood, Betty Miller, Mary and Betty Jane Branch and Helen Warren are entertaining Tuesday evening for the couple.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kopf, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackman, Miss Ann Walker and Harry Kopf are having an informal party at the Kopfs' home on the Warren-Jamestown road.

Mrs. Milton Beaty, of Lakewood, will give a dinner party Thursday evening for Miss Jamieson and Mr. Beaty at her home.

Oil City Girl Scout Writes Of Day at Camp Birdsall Edey

A very interesting description of a day at Camp Birdsall Edey, Warren county Girl Scout camp at Grunderville, appeared in Tuesday's issue of the Oil City Derrick. The article, which should be of much interest here, follows:

The public has had the reaction of adults concerning Camp Birdsall Edey but up until now no reaction of any one scout has been presented.

Herewith is a story written by Senior Service Scout Louisa May Urey, who was one of the local girl scouts who attended the first two weeks' session at the camp. It is an answer to a request by the chairman of public relations of the local Girl Scout council.

A DAY AT BIRDSALL EDEY

"Ho-hum!" I sat up and blinked my eyes. Camp was almost half over. It was 7:20 a. m., and I had, as usual, awakened before the bugler. I lay down and snuggled under the blanket, for it was chilly. How I would hate to leave camp; the counsellors were wonderful, the activities were unsurpassed. Suddenly, I was startled out of my reverie by a thud, a smothered "Gosh, late again! Darn that alarm clock!" and the bugler, who, being one of our counsellors, slept in the adjoining room, jumped out of bed. This was followed by a loud, ringing crash, and I surmised that the bugle had fallen out of bed, too. Then the screen door slammed and in a few moments First Call sounded. The girl in the next cot rolled over, opened one eye, mumbled something about loving the bugler and hating the bugle, and dropped back to sleep. At this several of us pounced out of bed and pulled off her blankets. The cabin was awake!

We jumped into our clothes and ran out through the cold, wet grass to the wash room. Needless to say, after we got the sleepers out of our eyes we felt much more like living. At 7:47, "Chris," the bugler, played Reveille.

Twenty five minutes after eight meant time for colors. This was a very impressive flag-raising ceremony which was held every morning, after which we entered the mess hall for breakfast, and what a breakfast: hot cereal, fruit juice, toast and cocoa! The breakfast dishes were usually finished by 9:45 and at 10 the mail man came. Everybody ran over to the Playhouse, where the mail was distributed, and let me tell you, there is no more welcome sight at camp than as envelope or card addressed to one's self. For about 15 minutes campers might be seen reading mail anywhere from the middle of the road to the swimming pool.

At 11 or 11:30, we went to our unit kitchens for dinner. These are outdoor kitchens which are lashed together by the campers. Everyday, except Sunday, if it is not raining, the girls cook their dinner over an open fire in their kitchens. This particular day we had pancakes. Of course, we had too much batter, and two counsellors, one "cook," and myself stayed to eat it. I do believe that I have never seen so many pancakes in my life.

Dinner was over and the dishes washed at 2:30 when we all marched down the hill to the cabin for "rest hour," and how we welcomed it!

At 3:30 our cabin went to the field to practice archery. We had beautiful 24 pound bows, and a skilled instructress. We certainly did learn quickly! In fact, one girl even hit the target!

At 4 we went swimming. It is a beautiful pool, with a cement bottom. We received a big diving board on this day and one of the hired men was busy putting it up, while we practiced for a water carnival to be held on visitors' day. The "expert swimmers" practiced with our beautiful big canoe, which was christened "Ahmeek." Ahmeek was King of the Beavers in Longfellow's "Hiawatha." After swimming we were free until five minutes of six, when we held our customary formal Retreat, the solemn flag-lowering ceremony, after which we filed in to the mess hall for a tantalizing supper.

At 8:30 the campers assembled in the lower field for campfire. We loved campfire, everyone of us. It gives one a safe, comfortable feeling to gaze into a blazing campfire while singing, or listening to a story, while the black night enfolds the circle like a gigantic blanket. Everyone feels especially close to every other person in the circle, and a queer spirit of enchantment seems to hold everyone tightly in its grasp.

At 9:45 we returned to our cabins and crawled sleepily into our warm beds, and at 10 Taps echoed up and down the valley—

"Day is done.
Gone the sun
From the lakes,
From the hills,
From the skies.
All is well,
Safely rest.
God is nigh!"

MATHERS-MASON

Janet Imogene Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Esper Mason, 106½ Pennsylvania avenue, east, and William Lester Mathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mathers, of DuBois, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at nine o'clock at the bride's home, in the presence of the family, a few relatives and intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Colley of the First Methodist church.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of dusty rose crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Charlotte, who wore a dress of french blue with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. Mathers had Robert Wilson as his best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, there was a reception for the wedding guests.

The couple will make their home at the Warren State Hospital, where both are employed.

NEW YORK WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

A wedding of local interest occurred at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church in New York City Monday, when Katherine McDonough Miller, of this city, was united in marriage to J. Vincent McManus, of New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Sargent, and the attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Haall, of that city. Mrs. McManus is spending a few days closing up her business affairs in Warren, after which she will return to New York where she will reside at the Murray Hill hotel, in Park avenue. Mrs. McManus is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. McDonough, of Warren.

Anniversary Services Sunday At Bethany Lutheran Church

Special services on Sunday, August 2, will mark the sixtieth anniversary of the Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church of Sheffield, which was organized on January 30, 1882. The celebration will occupy the entire day.

The program will open with a Swedish Holy Communion service at 9 a. m., with the Rev. A. S. Pearson, former pastor, preaching the sermon. At 10 a. m. the Sunday school and Bible classes will meet and visiting pastors will speak to the entire group. Holy Communion services will be held at 11 a. m., with another former pastor, the Rev. Carl E. Lundgren preaching the sermon.

Out of town visitors will be entertained in homes of the community for the noon meal.

In the afternoon a historical service will be held at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. Felix V. Hanson, of Jamestown, N. Y., president of the New York Conference, will be the speaker. Dr. Hanson is well known among members and friends of the congregation, having given the historical address at the fiftieth anniversary celebration in 1932 and having spoken frequently in the church at other occasions.

Evening vespers will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock by father and son. The Rev. Carl E. Lundgren will conduct the alter service, while his son, Pastor Russell Lundgren, will preach the sermon.

For the past t wo weeks, members and friends of the congregation have responded generously in order that a new organ might be purchased for the church. Approximately $900 in cash has been received and about $75 in piedges. The organ has been temporarily installed until after the celebration.

The Lutheran congregation at Sheffield was organized on January 30, 1882. The Rev. J. A. Rinell was the first pastor to serve in the new field, going to Sheffield in une, 1882. The same fall it was decided to build a church and this work was done in 1883. Soon afterwards the pastor left and the congregation was served by various students and visiting pastors until Pastor A. Palmer was called, arriving April 10, 1889. While he served the congregation, the parsonage was built.

Pastor Gottfrid Juhlin was the next pastor to serve at Bethany. He was followed by Pastor F. A. Peterson and in 1904 by the Rev. C. A. Hallberg. Pastor Hallberg's pastorate ended with his sudden death while enroute to the Synodical meeting in Rock Island, Ill. In 1910, Pastor A. S. Pearson was called and began his duties in the parish. He remained with the congregation for seventeen years.

Following his resignation, the Rev. Carl E. Lundgren was called. He began his work in the spring of 1928. During his pastorate the church was completely remodeled. Pastor Lundgren resigned in 1941 and was succeeded by the present pastor, the Rev. Carl H. Gronquist.

COMING AND GOING

ANTIQUES at PUBLIC AUCTION

Saturday, August 1, at 2:30 & 7:30 p. m.

Willow Lodge Barn, Route 17-J
Chautauqua, New York

A VERY LARGE COLLECTION of fine furniture, china, glass, silver, brass and copper ware, clocks, and Oriental rugs, from the private accumulation of Mr. Donald Ephlin, well-known collector and authority on period furniture.

CONSISTING OF tables, stands, chairs, and so forth, dating from the time of Charles II, and including rare examples in Wm. & Mary, Chippendale, Sheraton, Federal, Victorian, and other periods.

NOTEWORTHY EXAMPLES include a rare American Sheraton inlaid secretary, Chippendale and Queen Anne mirrors, a Chippendale slant top maple desk, a set of Sheraton fancy chairs, a set of Phyfe-type chairs, a William & Mary small bookcase, a fine banjo clock, tilt-top and occasional tables, oil paintings by famous artists, colored prints and the like.

IN ORIENTAL RUGS there are about 40 pieces of antique and semi-antique weaves, in room-sizes, runners, throw-rugs and occasional pieces—Kirmin-shahs, Tabriz, Rhokaras, Kazaks, Serouks, Feraghans, Dhagestans, Hamadans, etc. All of these rare and valuable pieces have been freshly cleaned, and are ready for use; this collection alone is worthy of your attendance, and could not ordinarily be duplicated outside of New York or Chicago galleries.

AND IN OBJET'S D'ART there are sets of lustres and girondoles, astral lamps, sets of sticks, dishes in Haviland, Wooster, Sevres, Royal Austria, Bennington, and other wares; Sheffield silver, copper ware, andiron and fender sets, and scores of other valuable and unobtainable items.

AND PICTURES—fine oils by such masters as Henry Ward Ranger, Asa Weston Twitchell, William Alden Brown, Oliver N. Chaffee and other great Americans; ancestor portraits, colored etchings and prints, lithographs, engravings, wood-cuts and the like are offered, in profusion.

All to Be Offered at Public Auction on This Date

This large and important collection will be liquidated at Public Auction on this and succeeding dates to be announced later, until entirely sold out. All goods now on display until sale time. For real collector interest, it would be hard to duplicate this event—so make every effort to attend.

Community Music Association Organization Is Completed

At an enthusiastic dinner meeting of the officers, directors and committees of the Warren Community Music Association, held at the Y. W. C. A. at six o'clock Thursday evening, a working structure for the organization was set up and definite policies of operation were adopted.

In addition to the officers, the following directors and committee were named by the group:

Directors: Choir, Carroll Fowler; band, Leidy Williams; orchestra, Harry Summers.

Board of governors: Choir, Carroll Fowler; Struthers-Wells Band, John Frontera; V. F. W. Band, Leidy Williams; Warren High School Band, Robert Dietsch; Salvation Army Band, Major B. E. Flinn; National Forge Band, Myron Watson; orchestra, Helen Eckardt Olson.

Ways and means committee: Don Folkman, chairman; Harry Thurn, Basil White.

Associate membership committee: Cecil Winans, chairman; Otto Peterson, Harold Johnson.

Orchestra membership committee: Charlotte Erickson, chairman; Mrs. Chris Pepke, Mrs. William Glassman, Lyle Schuler, Mrs. Helen Eckardt Olson.

Band membership: Fred Emhardt, chairman.

Choir membership: Russell Templeton, chairman; Russell Dietsch, Mrs. J. B. Leidig, Laverne Peterson, Dr. James Giunta.

Librarians: Choir, Gladys Judd; orchestra, William Loucks; band, Robert Folkman.

Publicity chairman and historian: Mrs. Don Folkman.

A policy whereby attendance at rehearsal is insured was established by the group.

It was decided to have both active and associate memberships. Tickets will be placed in the hands of the committee the first of next week and citizens of the community will be given an opportunity to purchase for one dollar or more a ticket to help insure the continuance of this worthwhile project.

The orchestra, band and choir membership committee chairmen, together with Carroll Fowler, Leidy Williams and Harry Summers, will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 p. m. to frame the program for the coming year.

Doll Contest Scheduled at Playgrounds

The annual doll show contest of the Warren borough playgrounds will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 5 and 6, it was announced today by Henry G. Kolpien, supervisor of the play areas.

On Wednesday the contests will be held at 2:30 p. m. at the five playgrounds of the borough, with the final contest to be staged at the Beaty playground on Thursday at 2:30. Winners in the neighborhood contests will compete in the final event.

The following rules and regulations for the contests have been announced:

1. All dolls must belong to the individuals entering them in the contest.
2. All doll clothes must be made by the contestant herself.
3. Contestants may enter as many dolls in the contest as she desires.
4. Playground instructors will elect or choose the judges.
5. During the contest the judges' decision are final.
6. All prizes will be awarded the last day of the playground season—picnic play day.

Dolls are to be judged as follows: Best character doll, largest doll, smallest doll, most beautiful doll, funniest doll, neatest doll, best foreign doll, most unique doll, best twin dolls, best old-fashioned wax doll, best old-fashioned china doll, best hand made outfit. Doll outfits are to consist of hat, dress, slacks and coat and must be made by the contestants themselves.

Flock Tops Stoneham to Gain Tie With State Hospital

DeRosia Given Great Support in Limiting Losers to Six Blows

Showing distinct superiority by this time over Stoneham, and settling this year's series with the Bennettmen, the Eagles last night ended the second half of the Sunset League with a 7-3 victory over the cellar-dwellers, and in so doing ended in a tie for the remaining series berth with the State Hospital ball club.

The two survivors battle next Tuesday evening at Russell Field in a playoff game which will eliminate one and send the other into the series with the National Forge, first half champions.

Last evening's finale was a thriller right up to the last inning of seven and one-half innings played, and it was beyond doubt the best struggle seen on Russell Field this week.

Stoneham cut loose with two runs on two hits in the second inning, the Eagles countering with one marker. And the Eagles tied the count in the fourth with another run on two hits, went ahead by a single score in the fifth when they plated their third tally on a hit, sacrifice and an infield out.

The real Flock power began to show in the sixth, however, when two hits and a walk accounted for two runs, and a trio of base knocks, including a two base hit by Bob Baker in the seventh, brought home the final two runs for a total of seven.

Stoneham could gather only six hits off the steady pitching of Ed DeRosia, who was blessed with fine support to stay out of trouble. The Bennettmen never threatened to score after the second inning until the top half of the eighth, when, as shadows gained a strangle hold on Russell Field, an error, a single and a passed ball gave them their third counter of the evening.

The game ended with a double play a moment later, the second of the evening, and the third time this feat has been accomplished this week by the Eagles. Stoneham made no double plays last night.

One standout of the evening probably was Clyde Farnsworth of the Eagles, whose bat has never before struck such a quick tempo for belting base knocks. Farnsworth, who has gone hitless in the majority of games played, but stays in the lineup due to his superb fielding, rapped only one hit last night, but that was a three base hit and it set up a run.

"Sparky" Pollock and Bob Baker were the real batting stars, without a doubt, Pollock getting three hits in four attempts, Baker making two neat sacrifice bunts and belting a singlie and double for a perfect night at bat.

WATER RATES ESTABLISHED

Harrisburg, July 31—(AP)—The Public Utility Commission Thursday ordered the State College borough authority to establish the same water service rates beyond the town's corporate limits as those which became effective Jan. 1, 1938. An Aug. 1 deadline was set.

In the first case involving the rates of an authority, the PUC fixed a Sept. 1 deadline for the refunding, without interest, of excess charges. Several customers had complained water service cost was "unduly discriminatory, x x x unjust and unreasonable.

BLACKOUT VIOLATORS FINED

Greensburg, July 31—(AP)—A $10 fine and costs of $29.95 were imposed on Joseph Bednarz, of Cokesville, by Justice of the Peace Paul Quinn of Latrobe, R. D. 1, on charges of refusing to turn out the lights of his home during a recent blackout test.

Costs of $14.70 were imposed on Lucuius Wilson of Bairdstown. He testified he was asleep and unaware a fire was burning on his property during the blackout.

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

The Eagles and Hospital are into the playoffs now . . . And even though one of them will be ousted after the preliminary attraction prior to the series for the championship, there'll be plenty of fight and zip in that contest which is scheduled for next Tuesday night . . . Among league fans, interest has already struck a fever pitch because both clubs boast an equal following . . . The Hospital, an experienced club, made up of holdovers from last year and a few from seasons previous, and the Eagles, every one of them freshmen in the Sunset League ranks this summer with the exception of two catchers, Johnny Smith and Mike Cashmere . . . The Hospital will reign a slight favorite because of experience this year, but let's go back and review the past meetings of the two clubs before conceding anything to either outfit . . . Having worked together as a team only once previous to the first setto with the Swansonmen, the Flock charged the Hospital and pressed them hard in the first half before losing the initial tilt of their four-game series to date, 12-10 . . . They came back later in the first half to rack up a 6-4 victory over the institution baseballers . . . Starting the second half, the Eagles won a 2-1 decision to put themselves one up on the Swanson charges, and then were shut out by Jim Rose this week, 5-0, as the series was squared . . . The rubber match is on tap Tuesday, as well as the game which will hold in it a tep ahead for one, and elimination from the race to the flag pole for the other . . . Considering the scores in the past, all except the last one having been very close, fans should find an extremely fine treat awaiting them Tuesday . . .

Looking beyond Tuesday night's encounter, and trying to see the series in a crystal ball should one or the other of the two challengers make the grade, this is how it looks to the writer . . . The Hospital stands a better chance defensively against the Forge, and has its power at bat to make things hard for the first half champions . . . But the pitching staff isn't too strong, and this may be their biggest weakness when the chips are down . . . As for the Eagles, they have a good fielding club now, their hitting is good in spots, but not as consistant as that of the Hospital of late, while the Flock mound corps stands out above that of the Swansonmen . . . As far as giving the Forge a run for the money in the series, the two teams stand about even, but we'd give a slight advantage to the more experienced and seasoned Hospital gang . . . Plans are being made today for the second annual city-wide singles and doubles tennis championship tournaments which will be held on the Hospital and Y. M. C. A. tennis courts again this year, as were the events last summer . . . The dates and more details will be printed as soon as definitely decided upon . . . So all you racket swingers had better start taking those practice cuts . . . The Homestead Grays will play a contest here against the League All-Stars on Thursday evening, August 20th, for the benefit of the Warren County War Chest . . . We'll have more about this encounter in the near future . . . Meanwhile, Corry's Merchants will attempt to defend their Tri-County League lead against the Forge at Irvine Sunday if they still hold it after tonight's contest at home against the Meadville Pioneers, which team they have already turned back once . . . The Forge has to stop the Keystone Ordnance Works tonight to have a chance to grab a share of the lead Sunday, if Corry triumphs tonight also . . .

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter 34

Dealing Kent In

JOYCE sat down. She put her head back and shook her blond hair, pushing it back from her ears when she finished. Then she looked at him and smiled.

"You're not angry, really. You're hurt."

"I'm sore," he said.

"All right, you're sore."

"And disgusted."

"And disgusted."

She was watching him, her eyes concerned and still faintly smiling. When he saw that look he melted a little and with some reluctance, said:

"All right. Forget it."

"Don't mind us," said Fenner. "Go ahead and sulk."

"Shut up!"

"Maybe the reason Delia didn't want to tell you was because of Hestor," Joyce said.

"Hestor?" Murdock's frown bit deeper. "How does Hestor—"

"Delia knew you'd been married to her. You must have loved her once, you know."

"Look," Murdock said gently. "If Hestor was the killer—she wasn't but suppose she was—and I found it out, you're wondering if I'd turn her in, is that it?"

"Well, would you? Be honest now."

Murdock thought it over.

"If it was only a question of Perry Clarke, probably not. With a guy like that you generally figure he had it coming and you hate to see anybody hang for the job. I don't know. It's funny about murder. I've been mixed up in a couple, but never by choice, and if I ever helped the police it wasn't because of any moral obligation to society. At least I don't think it was.

"Two men have been killed. I still don't know much about it but I do know it's time for you to stop fooling around. You saw Raeburn come out of that building. You told the police. You're the one who, on a witness stand, can practically pin the crime on him. Okay, now suppose he saw you."

"Oh—I don't think he did," Joyce said.

"You hope he didn't. But anyway, that's what I mean. That's what I was trying to tell you last night. People always figure that murder is something that happens to somebody else. Right now it can happen to you. Right now you're a potential victim."

"Nonsense."

"Why do you think Hardacker was killed? Because he knew too much, wasn't it?"

"I suppose so."

"Your testimony will convict Raeburn, won't it?"

"Yes, but—"

"I mean it, Joyce," he said. "Stay out of it. So far you've been lucky. Don't fool with it any more. And don't worry about Hestor. If she—or anyone else—is covering up and I happen to find out about it, I'm going to do some uncovering." He grinned up at her. "If I don't give it a try, I suppose you will."

She made a face at him and Fenner spoke up.

"I've got a little stake in this too, now." He was looking in his glass and his voice was cold and quiet. "Hardacker was a nice little guy. A little dumb, but a regular. I'd sort of like to get a crack at this lad Raeburn."

Fenner's mood reached out across the room. The knocking which followed came as a relief.

Joyce opened the door. "Come in," she said, and Delia Stewart entered, greeting them with a tentative smile.

"I heard you," she told Joyce. "When you didn't come back I—I thought I'd get up too."

She took a chair and curled up with her bare feet under her. The cream-colored robe was too large for her but she had wrapped it tightly about her young body and was using the sleeves for a muff.

"We were just talking," Joyce said.

"Do go on," Delia said. "I'm not intruding, am I?"

"Indeed you're not."

Checked Out

MURDOCK found enjoyment in just watching her. The long part of her hair had angled across her forehead and the flush of recent sleep was still in her cheeks. She smiled at him, her eyes wide and friendly and he thought: She's cute. And she's not afraid any more.

"I thought you were my pal," he said.

"Oh, I am, Kent."

"Couldn't trust me, huh?"

"Leave her alone," Joyce said.

"He's right, though," Delia said. "I was stupid and it was a shabby trick, Kent."

"But everything is all right now, isn't it?" he said.

"Oh, yes. About tonight, you mean, don't you? Yes, because Ward couldn't have been mixed up in this; he was still in jail."

Joyce stood up. "I think I want something." She looked at Delia. "A hot chocolate, maybe. It'll make us sleep."

"Yes," Delia said. "I'll help you. . . . No, I really want to." She got up.

"You'll go get your slippers then," Joyce said.

"Make mine beer," Murdock said. "And if there's any crackers—"

"I know," said Joyce.

Murdock hesitated; then asked something that had been on his mind since Joyce had interrupted them.

"The police have any line on Raeburn yet?"

Fenner shook his head. "That's why Bacon was so burned. It was after eleven when he got there and by the time he could get a man to Raeburn's hotel he'd skipped. Checked out about twenty minutes before."

He folded his hands and looked up at the ceiling. "It's a break your wife saw him, too." His glance came back to Murdock and leveled there. "For the kid's boy friend, I mean. Bacon didn't tell her, but Allen was released around seven-thirty last night. Arnold Gage sprung him."

Line On Raeburn

LIEUTENANT BACON arrived at the Murdock apartment at ten the following morning. Kent brought him in the dining room, where the others were lingering over their coffee.

Joyce poured coffee for him and Loretta came in with two hot muffins and put them beside his plate.

"I just wanted to see if maybe you'd remember anything more about last night. Sometimes you sleep on a thing and you think of little details that you hadn't thought of before. If we could sort of run over again what you did maybe something would come up we could use."

"What about Raeburn?" Murdock asked. "Anything more on him?"

"A little. For one thing he hired Hardacker about a week ago."

"Oh," said Fenner and the word dragged out thin.

Bacon took a look at him, then sipped his coffee and continued:

"We got that from the girl that worked in his office. She don't know all of it, but she knows a little. Raeburn came in—said he got Hardacker's name from a telephone book.

Center Beats Caseys, 20-5, In City Loop

The Recreation Center today was still in command of half of the first place berth in the City Softball League second half after shelling the Knights of Columbus for a 20-5 victory last night.

A big sixth inning, in which the Center scored 13 runs, ended what had been a hard fought contest, breaking a tie and the morale of the losing outfit.

Warnie Check had four hits in as many attempts and George Gheres made as many hits in six times at bat to lead the winners. Vescio had two hits in three times at bat to pace the Caseys.

GRAND CIRCUIT POINTS

Old Orchard Beach, Me., July 31—(AP)—Four classes with 43 entries were nominated to start today in a 12-dash Grand Circuit harness racing program at the Kite Track. The card includes a 2:20 trot, with two tlimination heats, 2:21 and 2:17 paces, each with a $1,000 purse, and a 2:09 bar pace.

Oklahoma is the second largest shipper of crude oil in the United States, with Texas ranking first.

IRVINE BIDS FOR LEAD IN TRI-CO. LOOP

The National Forge visits Meadville this evening to battle the Keystone Ordnance nine of Geneva in their fourth Tri-County League start while Corry entertains the Meadville Pioneers under the lights at Loveland Park to round out the card.

Tonight's contest is an important one for the Morrisonmen, for they need a triumph for many reasons.

Should Corry be defeated this evening, it would give the Forgers a chance to share first place through a victory on their part tonight, and even though Corry wins, the Forge must annex another decision in order to have a chance to take a share of first place Sunday when Corry invades Wilder Field.

Crowds have already been attracted by this new circuit in Meadville and Corry, the other two playing sites, and it is expected that interest will enlarge in this area by the time Corry and the Forge cross bats this weekend.

Besides the Corry-Forge game at Irvine Sunday, the other contest in the league will send Geneva against the Pioneers on the Meadville diamond which both use for home games.

JOHNSTOWN, OIL CITY WIN

Washington, Pa., July 31—(AP)—The Johnstown Johnnies shut out Washington, 7 to 0, behind the four-hit pitching of Lefty Wilshire in a Penn State Association game last night. Johnstown scored all of its runs in the fifth inning. At Butler, Oil City edged out Butler 5 to 4 on Wittingham's single with two on base in the eighth.

Robinson And Sammy Angott Meet Tonight

BY SID FEDER

New York, July 31—(AP)—The longest winning streak in modern fight history—Ray Robinson's run of 121 in a row—collides with Sammy Angott in Madison Square Garden tonight, and there's more than an outside chance that the collision won't do it a bit of good.

Although the skinny Harlem hammer is 1 to 2 in the betting to stay on the track that has left him all-victorious ever since he first drew on a glove as an amateur—especially since he already holds a decision over Angott—Sammy is a specialist at upsetting guys in return matches. And tonight Angott has one distinct edge—a style of bashing beaks that Ray definitely does not like.

RANSOM IN NAVY

Pittsburgh, July 31—(AP)—Alured (Slim) Ransom, head football, basketball and track coach at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, has been named a lieutenant, junior grade, in the U. S. Naval Reserve. Ransom, commissioned yesterday, will report on August 20 at the Naval Reserve's Pre-Flight Training School at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.

MAN FOUND DEAD

Altoona, July 31—(AP)—The body of a man identified by Coroner Chester C. Rothrock as Joseph F. Morrow, 52, was found yesterday in a house which the coroner said Morrow had rented. Rothrock said Morrow, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, was missing 10 days before his body was found by neighbors. The coroner is investigating the cause of death.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $2[illegible] each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

ARMY PROSPECT KILLED

Waynesburg, July 31—(AP)—William Lewis, 21, of Dilline (Green county) was killed in an automobile accident Tuesday a few hours before he was to report to Pittsburgh to receive his final physical examination for induction into the army. A companion was not hurt when their automobile overturned.

Americhans have been urged to forego "recreation as usual" involving non-essential bus and rail travel. Before planning trips, the public is urged to consult carriers. Conventions, pleasure trips, and vacations should be limited, Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, has urged.

Need a New Car? then-better get it!

Think things THROUGH on buying a new car! If you are Eligible under Newly Liberalized Rules it's Smart to BUY NOW! And here's why!

The Government wants us all to save gasoline.

The Government wants us to save rubber.

The Government also wants to make most efficient use of transportation facilities now available—including cars now built and ready for sale.

You do not help the country by continuing to "get along" on a car no longer fully efficient, safe or dependably able to serve you in any necessary use.

If you can qualify under latest rationing rules, you are recognized as an essential driver.

As such, you are not only entitled to your share of available gasoline and rubber, but are in reality expected to make the best use of them.

Your Buick dealer can show you that you can more efficiently do this in a brand-new, gas-thrifty, solidly dependable new 1942 Buick than in an older car which may have seen better days.

So before jumping at conclusions, get the whole story on new-car buying. Drop in on your Buick dealer for full details. He is at your service—any time.

Are you included in this list?

ARE YOU directly or indirectly engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war?

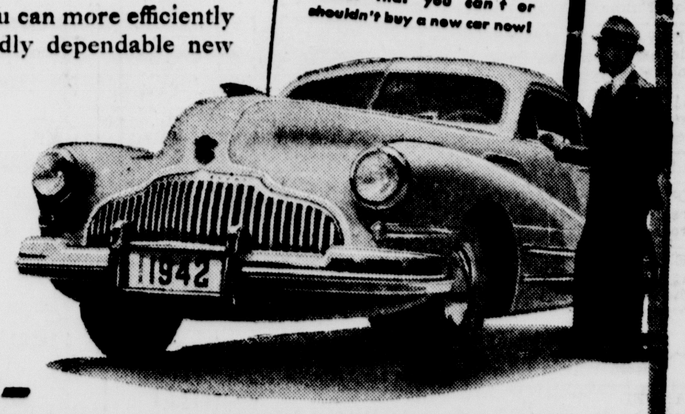

ARE YOU a physician, surgeon, nurse, veterinarian, clergyman or farmer?

DO YOU use your car in public service, such as fire or police, public health, highway maintenance work or the like?

ARE YOU owner of a taxicab or other vital means of public transportation?

ARE YOU a newspaper wholesaler, or a salesman in essential fields connected with war work?

THESE ARE the broad groups who are eligible under present rationing rules to buy new automobiles. There are other details of eligibility, of course, but if you are included in the above, it will pay you to see your Buick dealer now and get full information. Get the facts before you assume either that you can't or shouldn't buy a new car now!

If you're eligible to buy—

Better Buy Buick!

area with flares before unloading their bombs.

(The Berlin radio said strong German bombre formations again raided Birmingham during the night.)

Eight of the raiders were shot down by British defenses and a ninth was destroyed over its base in occupied France by an RAF fighter, a communique said.

While the Midlands bore the brunt of the attack, which the bulletin said was not on a heavy scale, bombs also were dropped over East Anglia, the south coast and other widely separated points.

A number of casualties occurred in one west Midland town, where seven persons were trapped in a shelter crushed by a direct bomb hit. Casualties elsewhere, however, apparently were light.

No bombs fell on London itself, but the city's secret new anti-aircraft guns again were in action.

Bad weather apparently was responsible for the failure of the RAF to attack Germany again last night, interrupting an offensive which had seen British bombers over the Reich on seven of the 10 preceding nights.

Offensive planning was said to be taking into account the danger that too long a delay in action might force the Russians to use up their reserves so that they would have no striking power when an Allied victory drive got started.

Responsible foreign sources with continental connections said they had heard that the German high command was convinced it could smash the Red army by next winter unless something unforeseen should happen.

The arrival of the staff officers, who included Brig. Gen. Frank O'D. Hunter, commander of American fighting plane units in this theater, and the debarkation of a new contingent of Canadian troops, stirred fresh speculation that an Allied invasion by the continent might be in the offing.

Then the destroyer escort was machinegunned from low level and her anti-aircraft guns silenced.

The transport, described by today's communique as a medium sized cargo vessel, was the fifth enemy ship damaged or sunk since the Japanese invaded the Papuan peninsula last week. Heretofore one transport was sunk and two others and a destroyer were hit by Allied bombs.

From all yesterday's operations three Allied planes were missing.

Caucasus Situation Is Described As Even More Critical

the Soviet command acknowledged that Marshal Fedor von Bock's armies had scored new gains in the critical struggle in the northern Caucasus.

German field headquarters asserted that Nazi troops had crossed the lower Don on a 150-mile front, and German military dispatches reported that Nazi columns lunging into the Caucasus had captured the important rail junction of Kushchevka, 45 miles south of Rostov.

Nazi military quarters said German vanguards were making quick headway in two big columns south of Rostov and beyond Proletarskaya, and declared that according to information reaching Berlin the Soviet retreat at several points became a disorderly flight.

The Germans conceded, however, that the Russians continued to offer "tenacious resistance" in the hilly region around Kalach, in the Don river bend, 50 miles west of Stalingrad.

Meanwhile, the arrival in London of four high-ranking U. S. army air force officers, coupled with the debarkation of a big new contingent of Canadian troops in the British Isles, stirred fresh speculation that an Allied invasion of western Europe might be near.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky was reported to have told a closed session of parliament that the time had come for the Allies to open a second front.

Thousands of soldiers and hundreds of air force ground crews arrived in the big new Canadian overseas contingent, with tankmen predominating.

The high American officers included Brig.-Gen. Frank O'D. Hunter, commander of American fighting plane forces in the European theatre, and Brig.-Gen. Asa N. Duncan, air force chief of staff.

the questions raised in these cases and thoroughly argued at the bar, and has reached its conclusion upon them.

It now announces its decision and enters its judgment in each case, in advance of the preparations of a full opinion which necessarily will require a considerable period of time for its preparation and which, when prepared, will be filed with the clerk."

The military commission trying the eight prisoners heard the opening of final arguments today.

Attorney General Biddle and Colonel Kenneth C. Royall, who had argued the case before the supreme court, came to court, however, to hear the decision, after the commission took a two-hour luncheon recess.

Biddle said arguments before the commission might be finished speedily and the commission's verdict go to the president next week. Royall, however, did not know whether proceedings could be wound up that soon.

members of the Silver Shirts to build up its case.

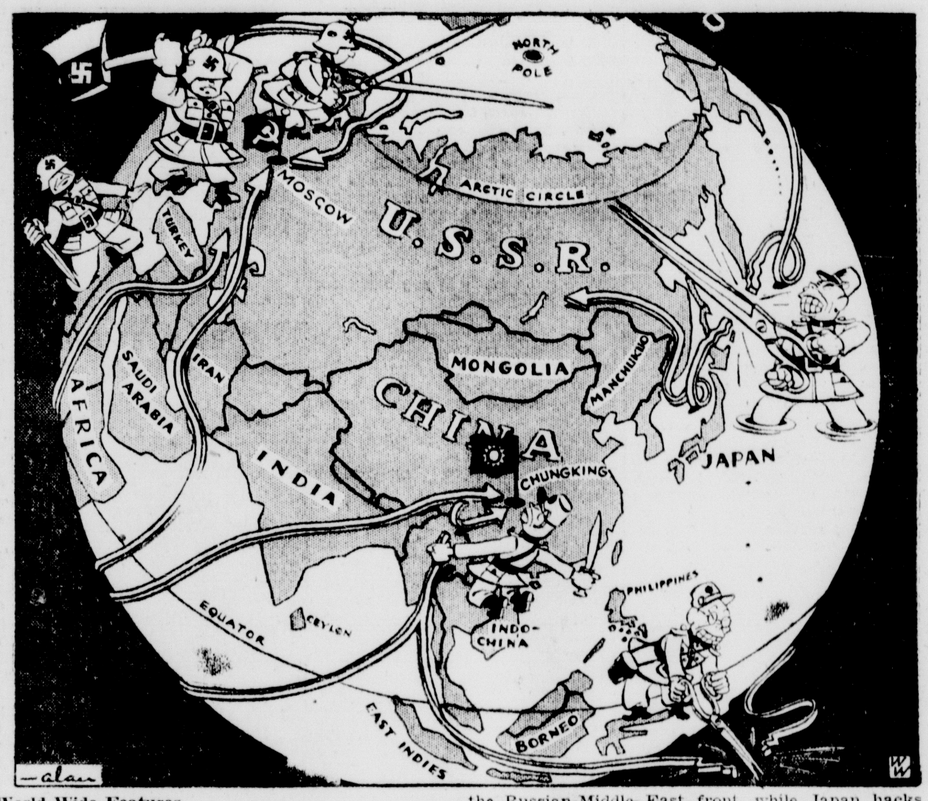

Pelley's counsel has issued subpoenas for an array of "big name" witnesses in an effort to confirm Pelley's statements. Among those Pelley sought to have testify in his behalf were Charles A. It was reported here that Eccles had "refused to come," but had agreed to send a substitute with records requested by Pelley's counsel.

FIGHT TONIGHT

Axis Snip at Allied Supply Lines

World Wide Features

The Japanese member of the Axis already has cut three of the major supply routes carrying American-made material to the fronts of Europe and Asia. The European members of the Axis now are doing their best to cut the three principal supply lines to the Russian-Middle East front, while Japan hacks away at the airplane substitute for the Burma Road, from India to Chungking. Since the United States has become the arsenal of the anti-Axis nations, the battles for the supply lines may tell the story of World War II.

PURELY LOCAL TRAIN SERVICE TO BE BANNED

Harrisburg, July 31—(AP)—"Clearly unnecessary" local train service will be eliminated as a result of a Public Utility Commission survey underway at the request of federal officials.

Commissioner Ralph E. Thorne said trains which parallel bus routes will be restricted so that locomotives and cars may be transferred to more important uses.

"Some of the routes which are clearly unnecessary will be crossed off," he said. In cases "where there may some difference of opinion a decision will be sought from Joseph B. Eastman, National Defense Transportation director.

PRODUCTION HALTED AT PONTIAC DIVISION

Pontiac, Mich., July 31—(AP)—War production was halted today at the Pontiac motor division of General Motors Corp. here after pickets turned away day shift employes, and a CIO union leader said the employes were joining a mass demonstration in connection with a CIO-AFL organizational dispute over retail food store workers.

A spokesman for the management said the plant was shut down when CIO picket lines were established at all entrances at 7 a. m. and the workers turned away.

voted to return to work at the insistance of President Roosevelt, whose secretary telephoned his request to CIO steel workers union officials.

One hundred workmen who picketed the York Oil Burner Company's plant yesterday were ordered back to work today after an AFL machinists' union official said the company had agreed to rehire three men who were discharged and two others who were laid off.

At Pottstown, 500 dressmakers of the Edward Shuwall Company walked out. Mary Motyko, vice president of the local International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said.

Richard J. Beamish, state public utility commissioner, predicted the army would operate Philadelphia's 1,295-mile transportation system if employes of the Philadelphia Transportation Company go on strike for higher wages. Officials of the PTC employes' union said the workers were "becoming restless" and negotiations have been underway to avert a threatened strike.

Man Held For Impersonating Army Officer

Traveled at will in the war aid depot and Camp Kilmer, issuing passes for the depot over his signature, after representing himself as an "area engineer of the war department."

Obtained $600 from operators of a Newark restaurant, promising them the canteen concession which did business under his supervision.

Forced the concessionaries to hire his fiance, whom he said he married June 28, to keep records "required by the government."

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From the Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Market Hogs Early—To avoid congestion in transportation and slaughtering facilities, farmers are urged to finish and market their spring pig crop as early as possible. Full-feeding is recommended by livestock specialists of the Pennsylvania State College to put rapid gains on the hogs and thus get them to market weight at an early date.

Grow Own Nitrogen—With the prospect of all nitrogen fertilizers being rationed, it is important that orchardists grow their own nitrogen, say fruit specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Legumes, such as Ladino, red, alsike, sweet and crimson clover, hairy vetch, and lespedeza, can be grown in the orchard.

Plant Poisons Livestock—Water hemlock plants have been the cause of death of cattle and sheep in various parts of Pennsylvania this year, report agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College. The plant grows in the grass along creeks and in swampy places. The area should be fenced off and the plants destroyed.

Clip Turkey Pastures—Clipping of the coarse and tough stalks in turkey pasture will encourage the growth of grass and clovers that the birds can eat, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. The cutter-bar should be set high.

Reduce the Walking—Location of the milk house near the dairy barn will save many steps in handling the milk, remind dairy extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Much time and work can be saved by reducing distance.

Prevent Forest Fires—A great nation-wide drive is now on to prevent forest fires. Everybody loses when trees burn, warn Pennsylvania State College foresters, and lumber is a vital wartime necessity.

Homemaking Newsettes

World War 2 may restore the art of home cooking to its former status. To release commercial goods for the armed forces and lend-lease, the government is urging homemakers to put up their own Victory Garden vegetables. The national slogan is, "Can Now for Food for Tomorrow." Another popular phrase is, "Waste Nothing —Can Everything." During the first World War homemakers learned that honey and corn syrup can double for sugar in canning fruit.

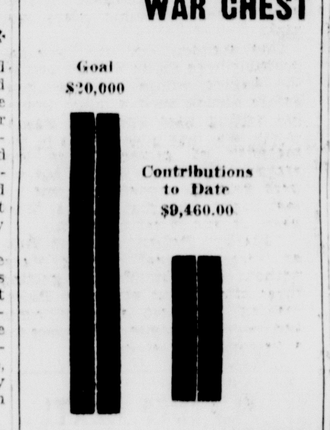

Corn syrup is successful in pies and tarts, too. Even sour pitted cherries, fresh or canned, are sweetened with corn syrup, the proportion being 1 cups syrup to 3 cups fruit. ake jBuicy fruit pies in glass for that crisp bottom crust.

Dressing can make or mar a salad. Blending of dressing and salad ingredients must be done with a light hand, so that each fruit or vegetable is perfect must be lightly coated, not messy. French dressing, in which lemon juice substitutes for vinegar, adds vitamin content and appetite-appeal in warm weather.

Celery is more than a salad vegetable. Use it in stews and soups. Serve it braised in gravy or in pure shortening; braising will tenderize those tough outer stalks.

Raw turnips bring vital Vitamin C to salads.

Youngsville Music Pupils Enjoy Outing

Youngsville, July 30—Youngsville high school students, in band, orchestra and high school choir, motored to Chautauque Assembly Wednesday evening, accompanied by Music Supervisor Byron Swanson. The young people listened to a very fine concert by the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra.

Interest and progress have been promoted this summer by a very fine music school conducted by Supervisor Swanson in the school building.

MEAD REUNION

One of the pioneer families in Youngsville, descendants of Darius Mead, held their annual reunion today on Island Park. This is a large group and an interesting program as well as a bountiful dinner are always features of the day.

ENTERTAINED AT CLUB

Mrs. Clifford Wing entertained Wednesday at the National Forge club house in honor of her sister, Mrs. Hazel Smith, of Warren. A dainty luncheon was served with a pastel color scheme. One feature of the table decorations were cradle shaped baskets of sweet peas. A social time was enjoyed and Mrs. Smith was showered with lovely gifts. Guests were present from Warren, Youngsville and Irvine.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Work of improving the stairs of the Fairmont Hotel has been going on this week.

The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary and families enjoyed a picnic on Island Park Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Frank Dunkle is visiting her son, Lloyd Dunkle, and wife, now located in the U. S. Air Service in New England.

The Birthday Club, of which Mrs. Eighmey is member and which originated in the Bates Davis street section of town, met this week with Mrs. Lawrence Eighmy at her home in Pittsfield, where the ladies had a fine time.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

The fourth quarterly conference of the local Methodist church was held Wednesday evening, opening at 7:45 with an inspiring address of devotional nature by Dr. J. A. Galbraith, district superintendent, who later conducted the business sessions. Reports were given showing that the various organizations of the church have been active. There was also a report of the Every Member Canvass" for pledges for the coming church year. Very good reports of the work of the charge were given from Irvine, Garland and Youngsville.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Ransom and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wing are planning Saturday to attend the Fisher home reunion at Fisher, Pa. There are several other former Fisher residents in Youngsville who may attend this reunion day of the village, which is always a pleasant time for all who lived in the town at any period.

Mrs. Allie Newmaker, of Warren, is spending a few days with Mrs. Mable Davis.

A pleasant meeting of the Robert Kinnear Relief Corps was held Thursday last at the home of Mrs. A. C. Graham.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will hold a tureen dinner meeting Friday, August 7th, at the home of Mrs. Alice Streeter. At this time the annual mite box opening will be held.

CHOKES TO DEATH

Etna, Pa., July 31—(AP)—Barbara Ann Arnold, 3, died of asphyxiation late yesterday after swallowing an object she picked up in the yard of her home, Deputy Coroner Julius Cirbus reported. Cirbus said the child was dead by the time a physician arrived.

Rhode Island had a tuberculosis death rate of 38.1 per 100,000 of the population during 1939.
